London and back. 4 cents a mile.

The closer you look at the incredible deals Qantas has won for you recently, the better they look. The $700* return Fare Deal to London (for visits not less than 45 days or more than six months) and the $420* One-Way fare work out at under 4 cents a mile, to European cities costs even less! Compare that with any other transport you're using at the moment. And with Qantas those miles are really getting you someplace . . . to the other side of the world. Flying with the full friendly Qantas Service with a choice of 707 or the big beautiful 747 Jumbo.

Qantas or your Qantas Travel Agent (with this sign on the window) can show you just how possible that big trip home really is.

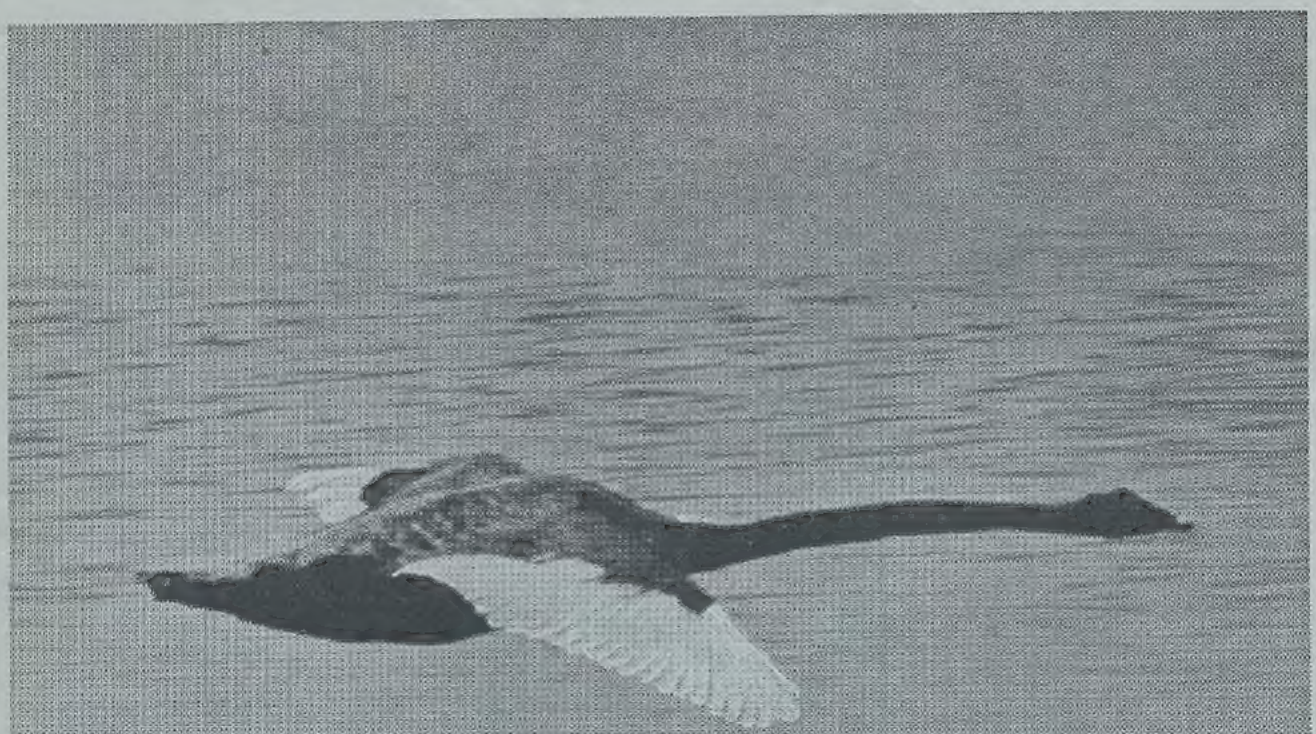
FROM THE HONOURABLE GOUGH WHITLAM Q.C., M.H.R., PRIME MINISTER OF AUSTRALIA

I take pleasure in welcoming to Australia players competing in the World Cup Qualifying Tournament of the World Soccer Federation. I congratulate all Australian and visiting players taking part in this important tournament. I welcome in particular the teams from New Zealand, Indonesia and Iraq.

Sport is one of the world's great forces for international amity and understanding. It brings together people from all cultures and nations. Soccer is the most international of all codes of football uniting players and supporters from every continent.

My Government welcomes all sporting teams to Australia except those selected on a racial basis. It is satisfying to note that the blight of racism has never tainted the great code of soccer, which sets an example to sportsmen of all kinds of the highest traditions of international brotherhood and good will.



Like Leonardo, we care intensely about it.

Five hundred years ago a man called Leonardo da Vinci turned his bountiful genius to the task of achieving man-made flight. To Leonardo, the flight of a bird was an inspiration, a marvel, a riddle he was never to solve. The science of aerodynamics defied even Leonardo's ingenuity. It was left to men of other generations to unlock the secrets of the bird's wings, to discover the aerofoil section, to separate the functions of lift and thrust between wings and engines, to fly higher and faster than the bird. And having created the marvel for ourselves, still some of us stand in awe of it, as Leonardo did.

We count the people of our airline among these. For us, flight is a phenomenon full of wonder. We want to share it with you the first time or the next time you fly.

We know about flight.

FROM SIR STANLEY ROUS, PRESIDENT F.I.F.A.

It is with pleasure that I send on behalf of FIFA best wishes for a successful World Cup 1974 Preliminary Tournament in Sydney in March. At the same time I express regrets at being unable to accept the kind invitation of the Australian Soccer Federation to be present owing to official FIFA engagements in Europe during the same period.

This tournament is the first of its kind ever to be organised in Australia, and I am sure that it will be efficiently arranged and afford much pleasure to the visiting associations.

The President, Sir Arthur George and his colleagues, including Brian Le Fevre, the energetic General Secretary, will extend a warm welcome to their guests and do everything possible to ensure that their visit remains a happy memory.

I hope that the players, referees, officials and spectators will seize this opportunity of showing good sportsmanship, skillful play and control and arouse an upsurge of enthusiasm for soccer throughout Australia.

Good luck to you all.

Stanley Rous, President FIFA

FROM SIR ARTHUR GEORGE, PRESIDENT, AUSTRALIAN SOCCER FEDERATION

On behalf of the Executive of the Australian Soccer Federation and of all Soccer followers in Australia, I am honoured to welcome to Australia the officials and players of Indonesia, Iraq and New Zealand, who will join with the Australian team in the first world cup Soccer tournament to be held in this country from March 11 to March 24, thus providing an occasion for Australian Soccer followers to participate in an important section of the World Cup Soccer Competition.

The tournament is significant in that the winner will play the winner of the Group B2 tournament consisting of Kuwait, Syria, Iran and India and the winner of this match will in turn play the winner of the 8-nation group tournament which is to be held in Korea in May, with the ultimate winner qualifying to be a member of the final 16 teams in the World Cup Tournament to be held in Germany in 1974.

My Federation is greatly honoured by having as its official guest amongst us to-day our Prime Minister The Hon. E.G. Whitlam who will officially declare the tournament open. I offer my best wishes to all the participating teams and may the best team win.

Arthur George

FROM THE PRESIDENT, NEW ZEALAND FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION

Greetings from the New Zealand Football Association and our very best wishes for success of the First World Cup elimination games to be held in Australia. Our appreciation also for the agreement to play the first New Zealand—Australia game in Auckland. We congratulate you on undertaking the organisation of this series, confident of your ability to make this an occasion of which Australia and New Zealand can be justly proud.

Our greetings and good wishes for an enjoyable stay in Australia to officials, players and supporters of overseas visiting teams who will be with you during the Cup games and who unfortunately will not be coming to New Zealand. Soccer, the most universal of all games, is on the march more rapidly than ever in this part of the world and the staging of this World Cup series will further enhance our progress and give more impetus to the ever increasing number of soccer players and supporters. It will also advance the development of skills towards the highest standards of achievement reached in other countries desired by us all. Inter-country competition can only be beneficial to all participants and we believe there should be the closest liaison between all soccer administration, and in particular Oceania and South East Asia, to promote such competition. We look forward to increased co-operation to that end with you in the future. We trust that all teams and spectators will enjoy the skill and excitement of this World Cup series.

Kia-Ora to all.

Hon. W.A. Fox, President, New Zealand Football Association

FROM THE PRESIDENT, ALL INDONESIA FOOTBALL FEDERATION

May I first of all convey the cordial greetings of the Indonesian Football World to its counterpart in Australia and in the countries participating in these World Cup 1974 Preliminaries.

I wish to extend my sincere thanks on behalf of the All Indonesia Football Federation to the Australian Soccer Federation for its willingness to play host to these preliminary games.

I have no doubt that the participating teams will give their best possible performance to win this tournament and, together with that, a chance to obtain a ticket to Munich. The "battle" will undoubtedly be a hard one, but however hard it be, I do hope that it will be done in the true spirit of sportsmanship and friendship, beneficial to football throughout the world.

Let therefore sportsmanship and fair play be our noble guidance.

May the best team win!

Kosasih Purwanegara S.H.,
President, All Indonesia Football Federation

FROM THE PRESIDENT, IRAQ FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION

The Iraq Football Association would like to take this opportunity to express their deep appreciation and sincere thanks to the Australian Soccer Federation for staging the preliminary rounds of the World Cup.

We sincerely hope that the presence of our team in your country will further strengthen the relationships between our two countries.

Each member of our team is determined not only to give a fine display of football on the field but to also be true ambassadors of Iraq.

We repeat our thanks and wish the very best of success to your Organising Committee.

Yours sincerely,

Adnan Ayub Sabri Al-Izzi,
President of the Iraq Football Association

AUSTRALIA AND THE F.I.F.A. WORLD CUP COMPETITION

The Australian National Soccer Team is not new to World Cup participation. Australia first played in the Qualifying Rounds at Phnom Penh, Cambodia in 1965. On that occasion the Australian Team was outclassed by North Korea losing the matches 1—6 and 1—3.

Whilst on that tour the opportunity was taken to play additional matches against the National Team of Cambodia, Hong Kong and against Malaysia. This heralded our first visit to Asia on the international football scene and since then we have cemented firm friendships with many countries in that part of the world.

In October, 1969, Australia again played in an Elimination Tournament in Seoul, South Korea and on that occasion was successful in defeating both Japan and South Korea to win its first ever World Cup matches. The team then journeyed to the Portugese territory of Mozambique, where in Lourenco Marques the team was victorious after playing three hard matches against Rhodesia before a result could be obtained.

After the matches in Mozambique the Australian National Team was subjected to the horror of having to fly for forty hours before reaching Tel Aviv, Israel for a match against the Israel National Team some forty eight hours after arriving in that country.

The result of that match is now firmly established in the record book as a 1—nil defeat against Australia and ten days later a confident Israeli Team playing percentage football held Australia to a 1—all draw at the Sydney Sports Ground on December 14, 1969.

Perhaps the disappointing end to our bid to qualify for the Final Competition played in Mexico in 1970 was to some degree due to lack of adequate preparation. At that time the Federation was handicapped by a lack of finance and this lead to a reduction in the number of preparation matches and training camps being arranged. There is no doubt that we have learnt from the mistakes of the past.

The challenge to qualify for the Final Competition of the 1974 F.I.F.A. World Cup to be played in West Germany has been approached in a business like manner with the maximum permissable number of practice matches and training camps being arranged. Consideration has to be given to the domestic Cup and League Championship programmes which are the life blood of the game in Australia.

Tremendous financial assistance has been given to the Federation by our World Cup Consortium of Sponsors, Pepsi-Cola, Philips Industries, Travelodge Australia and News Limited. These fine Australian Companies made available the sum of $100,000 In order that we can adequately prepare the National Team for the challenge ahead.

And so the Australian Soccer Federation is now poised to meet the challenge of organising successfully its first World Cup Tournament. It has been a very difficult task administratively but thanks to the generous co-operation which has been extended to the Federation by many soccer enthusiasts the burden has been considerably lightened and we look forward with confidence to successfully completing the schedule of matches.

The Australian National Team will undoubtedly be perfectly fit and eager to do battle with its opponent and we trust that as a result of the twelve matches which comprise the Group B1 Tournament, that no matter whether or not the ultimate winner is Australia, that the Team acquits itself as gentlemen both on and off the field of play and our visitors return to their home countries with a most favourable view of the manner in which soccer is played and is administered in this country.

THE WORLD CUP -

The greatest football show on earth, the most prized sporting possession is the World Soccer Cup staged every four years.

For the first 40 years of its existence it was known as the Jules Rimet trophy after the French lawyer who aired the idea of a world soccer championship among nations when in 1920, he became president of FIFA, the ruling body of soccer.

Ten years later the dream became reality with the launching of the World Cup in Montevideo, Uruguay — but when the winners of the tenth tournament collect their prize in Munich, West Germany, in July 1974, it will not be the Jules Rimet Cup they receive but the FIFA World Cup.

The reason for the change of trophy dates from the time the rules were framed for the very first tournament in 1930. Included was a clause to the effect that if any country won the Jules Rimet Cup three times it would become theirs permanently — Brazil's success in Mexico in 1970 was their third world conquest in the last four series.

FIFA declined the Brazilian offer of donating a new World Cup trophy which was to have been named the Churchill Cup. Instead, they commissioned Silvio Gazzaniga, an Italian, to design a new statuette, made of 18 carat gold and worth $20,000. All participating countries will receive a small replica of the trophy. The new trophy cannot be won outright.

Next to Brazil's triple triumph, Uruguay and Italy have each won the competition twice. The only other winners have been West Germany and England.

In Britain the tournament was not regarded as truly representative of world football until 1950 when, having rejoined FIFA, England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland became eligible to compete for the first time.

England probably wished they would have stayed home. In Belo Horizonte, Brazil, in the biggest upset of all-time, the unheralded USA team rocked world soccer with an astonishing 1—0 win against England!

The prize remained beyond British reach for another 16 years. Then in 1966, England playing at home against Brazil. They became the third host nation to triumph, the first since 1934 when Italy became world champions.

In Mexico four years later Brazil, committed to all-out attack, won it back. No country could more worthily have won the World Cup outright.

The finals of the next World Cup will be held in West Germany in July 1974. As always 16 countries will compete, including two automatic qualifiers, West Germany, the host nation, and Brazil, the cup holders.

Europe will probably have nine contestants in the finals, South America four and Africa, Asia/Oceania and Central America one each.

A record 77 countries entered the 1974 World Cup — a far cry from the 13 competitors when it all began, in 1930. The number of participants has increased with every series. In 1962 it was 53, in 1966, 54, and in 1968, 70.

Australia first entered the World Cup in 1965. Our first bid ended disastrously in Phnom-Penh, Cambodia, when the Australian team, playing in Asia for the first time, was eliminated by North Korea 6—1 and 3—1.

North Korea went on to amaze the world by reaching the quarterfinals of the tournament in England after beating Italy 1—0.

Four years later, a much more mature, experienced Australian team playing Israel in Tel-Aviv missed a berth in the Mexico finals

In the final of the Asia/Oceania qualifying group, Australia lost 1—0 to Israel in Tel-Aviv, the only goal being scored off the boot of Australian stopper, Dave Zeman. Two weeks later in front of 32,000 Sydney fans, Israel held out for a 1—1 draw to clinch their passage into the finals.

Israel acquitted itself splendidly in Mexico, drawing with Sweden and Italy after losing narrowly to Uruguay. Italy went on to reach the final, Uruguay finished an unlucky fourth.

Australia's full record in the World Cup is:

1965: lost 1—6 to North Korea, in Phnom-Penh.
1965: lost 1—3 to North Korea, in Phnom-Penh.
1969: beat Japan 3—1, in Seoul.
1969: beat South Korea 2—1, in Seoul.
1969: drew with South Korea 1—1, in Seoul.
1969: drew with Japan 1—1, in Seoul.
1969: drew 1—1 with Rhodesia, in Lourenco-Marques.
1969: drew 0—0 with Rhodesia, in Lourenco-Marques.
1969: beat Rhodesia 3—1, in Lourenco Marques.
1969: lost 0—1 to Israel, in Tel Aviv.
1969: drew 1—1 with Israel, in Sydney.

The first three placings at every World Cup played since its inception, with the venue for the tournament bracketed:

1930 (Uruguay)	1 Uruguay	2 Argentine	3 USA
1934 (Italy)	1 Italy	2 Czechoslovakia	3 Germany
1938 (France)	1 Italy	2 Hungary	3 Brazil
1950 (Brazil)	1 Uruguay	2 Brazil	3 Sweden
1954 (Switzerland)	1 West Germany	2 Hungary	3 Austria
1958 (Sweden)	1 Brazil	2 Sweden	3 France
1962 (Chile)	1 Brazil	2 Czechoslovakia	3 Chile
1966 (England)	1 England	2 West Germany	3 Portugal
1970 (Mexico)	1 Brazil	2 Italy	3 West Germany

WORLD CUP FACTS

- The 1970 World Cup in Mexico set a new attendance record for the final series with an aggregate of 1,673,975 spectators attending the 32 matches.
- The highest individual goalscore for a World Cup final series is 13 by Just Fontaine of France in 1958. Two other players have reached double-figures, Sandor Kocsis with 11 goals for Hungary Switzerland 1954 and Gerd Muller with 10 for West Germany in Mexico, 1970.
- The highest match aggregate in a World Cup Final series is 12 goals scored in 1954 when Austria beat Switzerland 7–5.
- Mexican goalkeeper Antonio Carbajal holds a World Cup record that may never be equalled. He represented his country in five tournaments — between 1950 and 1966.
- In seven of the nine finals the eventual winners have been behind at one stage of the match. The exceptions, Italy 1938 and Brazil 1970.
- Australia's first goal in World Cup soccer was scored by the then national captain, Les Scheinflug, in the 70th minute of the match against North Korea, in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, on November 21, 1965.
- Only three teams from Asia have qualified for the World Cup finals: South Korea, in 1954; North Korea in 1966, and Israel in 1970. It's interesting to note that in the last two instances Australia was the country the Asian finalists had to beat at the last hurdle.

The Jules Rimet Cup won outright by Brazil.

WORLD CUPS IN A NUTSHELL

1930

Uruguay staged and won the first World Cup. Only 13 countries took part. Europe's representatives were restricted to France, Yugoslavia, Rumania and Belgium. Uruguay and Argentina each won their semifinals (against USA and Yugoslavia respectively) and in the first World Cup final, played on July 30, 1930, the host country rallied from 1–2 down at half time to win 4–2 in front of 90,000 spectators.

1934

The holders, Uruguay, refused to go to Italy to defend their title. Italy kicked off with a 7–1 win against the USA, then narrowly beat Spain and Austria to reach the final against Czechoslavakia, in Rome. The Czechs took a surprise 1–0 lead, but Italy scored a late equaliser and squeezed home 2–1 in extra time.

1938

Now it was Argentina's turn to stay out in protest over their request to stage the tournament being rejected. Italy impressively retained the trophy despite the hostility of French crowds. Victories over Norway, France and Brazil carried them to the final in which Hungary were well beaten 4–2.

1950

After an interval of 12 years, Brazil staged the first post-war tournament in which England participated for the first time.

England suffered its greatest humiliation ever, losing 1–0 to the United States' part-timers. After magnificent wins against Sweden and Spain, Brazil only needed a draw with Uruguay to be crowned world champions. More than 200,000 spectators packed the Maracana Stadium in anticipation of a Brazilian triumph, but two well-taken goals gave Uruguay a shock 2–1 win.

1954

Hungary were rated "unbeatable" in Switzerland. In the previous five years they had not lost a match and had hammered England 6–3 at Wembley six months earlier. Hungary started brilliantly, slamming Korea 9–0 and West Germany 8–3 and went through to the final with 4–2 victories over both Brazil and Uruguay, but Germany deprived them of the World Cup. The West Germans rallied after trailing 0–2 in the final to score goals through Rahn (2) and Morlock, which made them the only country in World Cup history to win the trophy after being beaten during the final series.

1958

Hosts Sweden delighted their supporters by reaching the final then sent them crazy by scoring the first goal, but Brazil answered with one of the greatest exhibitions ever seen in a World Cup final. Garrincha, Didi, Vava and a 17-year-old named Pele, showed the world a new conception of play which brought them the biggest ever World Cup victory by 5–2. Vava and Pele scored twice each.

1962

Negative, defense-ridden football throughout the Chilean tournament made this the least memorable of the series. Pele was lost to Brazil through an early injury, but the reigning champions retained the trophy beating surprise-packet Czechoslavakia 3–1 in the final after being a goal down. Chile delighted their fans by taking third place, ahead of Yugoslavia.

1966

Brazil's hopes of a World Cup hat-trick in England dived when Pele was injured in the first game against Bulgaria, and they failed to survive the preliminary stage. North Korea provided an outsize shock by beating Italy, then taking a 3–0 lead against Portugal in the quarterfinals before losing 5–3. The semifinals provided an enormous contrast. West Germany scored a laborious 2–1 win against the USSR in a very rough game. England beat Portugal by the same score in a first-class match rated the best of the series. England went on to take the final, 4–2, after extra-time.

1970

By winning all six matches in Mexico, Brazil worthily became the first country to take the World Cup three times. Pele touched on his brilliant best to steer Brazil into the final after wins against England, Peru and Uruguay. Italy got to the final the hard way, after 120 dramatic minutes in the semifinal against West Germany in a match that yielded five goals in extra-time. The Azteca Stadium, Mexico City, did not see Brazil until the final itself. Their performance was well worth the wait. Brazil, though held to 1–1 at halftime, was never in danger of defeat and ran out effortless 4–1 winners.

RULES OF THE GROUP B1 WORLD CUP QUALIFYING TOURNAMENT

MANAGEMENT

The Tournament shall be organised and managed by the Australian Soccer Federation in association with the F.I.F.A. and its representatives.

PARTICIPANTS

Participants in the Tournament shall be:

Australia
Indonesia
Iraq
New Zealand

QUALIFICATION OF PLAYERS

Each Association shall select its National Representative Team from players who are subjects of its country and under jurisdiction.

Each National Association can if it wishes change the composition of its team from one match to another, even in the case of a re-play after a draw, on condition that such players are selected from the list of those announced and qualified according to the Rules of the Competition.

COLOURS

Each team shall wear the colours of its country.

When in the opinion of the Organising Committee the colours of the two opposing teams might lead to confusion or for television purposes, one of the teams, to be determined by lot, shall change its colours.

Every team shall have a spare outfit available in other than their official colours. The players shall wear numbers on their jerseys and shorts

LAWS OF THE GAME

All matches shall be played in accordance with the Laws of the Game as promulgated by the International Board and published by F.I.F.A.

MODE OF COMPETITION

(a) Two points shall be awarded for a win and one point for a draw.

The team with the highest number of points shall be declared the winner.

Winning team of Sub Group B1 shall play against the winning team of Sub Group B2 on a home and away basis.

Sub Group B2 consists of India, Iran, Kuwait and Syria.

(b) If two or more teams obtain an equal number of points, the goal difference of the matches played by each team shall decide.

(c) If two teams have the same points and the same goal difference, they shall play an additional match with extension of time. If there is no decisive result at the end of the extension of time, penalty kicks as stipulated below shall decide.

(d) If three teams have the same points and the same goal difference, they shall play knock out matches as given below.

(i) A versus B, to be drawn by lots.
(ii) C bye.
(iii) C versus Winner A versus B.

(e) If four teams have the same points and the same goal difference, they shall play knock out matches to be drawn by lots as shown under

(i) A versus B.
(ii) C versus D
(iii) Winner A versus B plays Winner C versus D.

NOTE: In all knock out matches as stated above, if there is no decisive result at the end of the normal full time, extension time shall be played. If there is still no decisive result at the end of extension time, penalty kicks shall decide.

DURATION OF MATCHES & EXTENSION TIME

(a) All matches shall be played forty-five minutes each half with an interval of five minutes.

(b) There shall be no extension of time in all matches of the Group Competition.

(c) There shall be extension time of fifteen minutes each half in a replay match or in knock out matches to decide the winning team, when two or more teams tie on points and goal difference. Whenever there is extension time, an interval of five minutes shall be given between the end of the normal full time and the beginning of the extension time. There shall be no interval between the two halves of the extension time.

PENALTY KICKS TO BREAK A TIE

(a) The Referee shall choose the goal at which all of the penalty kicks shall be taken.

(b) Each team shall take five penalty kicks. The kicks shall be taken alternatively.

(c) The Referee shall toss, and the team whose Captain wins the toss shall take the first kick.

(d) The team which scores the greater number of goals shall be declared the winner.

(e) Only the players who are on the field at the end of the match, which shall mean at the end of extra time, in so far as a match in which extra time is authorised, is concerned, shall be eligible to take part in the penalty kicking.

(f) If, after each team has taken five kicks, each has scored the same number of goals or neither has scored, the taking of penalty kicks shall continue, in the same order, until such time as each has taken the same number of kicks and one team has scored a goal more than the other.

(g) Each kick shall be taken by a different player, and not until all eligible players of any team, including the goalkeeper, have taken a kick, may a player of the same team take a second kick.

(h) Any player who was on the field at the end of the match (see paragraph (e) above) may change places with his goalkeeper at any time during the taking of the penalty kicks.

(i) All players, other than the two goalkeepers and the player taking the kick, shall remain within the centre circle whilst the taking of the penalty kicks is in progress. The goalkeeper who is colleague of the kicker shall take up position outside the penalty area, behind the line which runs parallel with the goal line, and at least ten yards from the penalty mark.

SUBSTITUTION

(a) Not more than two players may be substituted during a match including extension time, from the five named reserves who must be declared before the commencement of each match.

(b) Any player so substituted cannot re-enter the game.

PLAYER DISMISSED FROM THE FIELD OF PLAY

A player dismissed from the field of play by a referee shall remain suspended until his case has been decided by the Disciplinary Committee who must meet within 24 hours of the match concerned.

REFEREES AND LINESMEN

All referees and linesmen shall be neutral referees to be selected by the F.I.F.A. Referees' Committee.
